Perfect Back

Chances of you spending most of your day sitting at your desk are very high especially if you work in an office setting. Your office chair cannot provide you with the best support for your back and as a result, you probably leave work with an aching back. The Perfect Back cushion from U-Foam can provide your back with the much-needed support to maintain proper posture, good circulation and prevent muscle fatigue. The Perfect Back conforms to the natural curvature of your back providing you with the support you need making your office chair so much more comfortable.

The ergonomic addition to your office chair, providing that much needed relief you crave for your back.
